DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The indicated allowable subject matter of dependent claims of claims 4,6,10,12,16 and 18 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference to Suzuki et al. ("Suzuki"), U.S. Patent No. 4,707,671. Rejections based on the newly cited reference follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 2-6,8-12 and 14-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eda et al. ("Eda"), U.S. Patent No. 5,387,888, in view of Suzuki, U.S. Patent No. 4,707,671.

Regarding claims 4,10 and 16, Eda discloses a flexible board (and method of fabricating and a cellular phone including comprising:

(a) an internal layer (2,2' in Fig. 1) (col. 3, lines 26-40);

(b) a line (1 in Fig. 1) formed in a first area of said internal layer, said line radiating unnecessary radiation (col. 3, lines 26-40);

Art Unit: 2681

(c) a first ground layer (3 in Fig. 1) formed on an upper surface of said internal layer, said first ground layer disallowing radiation to pass therethrough (col. 3, lines 26-40); and

(d) a second ground layer (4 in Fig. 1) formed on a lower surface of said internal layer, said second ground layer disallowing radiation to pass therethrough (col. 3, lines 26-40).

Eda fails to explicitly disclose (e) a ground line formed in a second area except said first area in said internal layer.

In a similar field of endeavor, Suzuki provides evidence in an electric transmission line, multiple ground lines ( $1_{a3}$ ,  $1_{b3}$ ... $1_{g3}$  in Fig. 1) disposed across the dielectric opposite signal lines, each conductor spaced apart from an adjacent ground line (col. 4, lines 35-44).

At the time of the invention it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Eda to include multiple (i.e., reads on a second ground line) ground lines in different areas (i.e., reads on second area except first area) within an internal layer (e.g., between layer 3 insulators) for the purpose of reducing the signal transmission loss.

Regarding claims 2,8 and 14 Eda as modified by Suzuki, further discloses the flexible board (and fabrication of) as set forth in claims 4,10 and 16, respectively, further comprising:

(f) inherently, a first cover layer (3 in Fig. 1) formed over a surface (i.e., reads on top surface) of said first ground layer (col. lines 33-40); and

(g) inherently, a second cover layer (4 in Fig. 1) formed over a surface (i.e., reads on bottom surface) of said second ground layer (col. 3, lines 33-40)

Art Unit: 2681

Regarding claims 3,9 and 15, Eda as modified by Suzuki further discloses the flexible board (and fabrication of) as set forth in claims 2, 8 and 14, respectively, further comprising electrically insulating adhesive layers (i.e., it is inherent in a multi-layer substrate to use adhesive layers in order for the stripline and dielectric layers can be held together) sandwiched among said internal layer, said first and second ground layers, and said first and second cover layers (see Fig. 1) .

Regarding claims 5,6, 11,12, 17 and 18 Eda as modified by Suzuki further discloses the flexible board (and fabrication of) as set forth in claims 4,10 and 16, respectively, wherein a plurality of through-holes (i.e., reads on via holes) is formed throughout (i.e., electrically connecting) said first ground layer, said internal layer (i.e., includes said ground line), and said second ground layer (col. 2, lines 33-35).

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Quan, U.S. Patent No. 5,631,446, discloses a microstrip flexible printed wiring board interconnect line.

Compton, U.S. Patent No. 4,680,557, discloses a staggered ground-plane microstrip transmission line.

Art Unit: 2681

Moye et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,057,798, discloses a space-saving two sided microwave circuitry.

Jain et al., U.S. Patent No. 6,133,805, discloses an isolation in multi-layer structures.
